

Tell Stories Online

It's through stories you can showcase your work, change people's minds, inspire them to shop, or join you to make a difference.

Historypin

Historypin is a new (and free) application for Android, iPhone, or the web that arranges photos, videos, and text in the context of time and location (leveraging the Google Maps API).

Animoto

With Animoto, you can put together photos, slides, and text with audio and video to create a compelling story from all the various elements you may have created separately or gathered at an event.

Posterous

Posterous is a blogging tool, that is really so much more. You can, as with traditional blogs, have a site that shares your posts with the world. You can also create groups to share privately across a team, and organization, or a network.

Storify

With Storify, you can search across multiple social platforms and pull together the content that's of interest, as well as add additional text, to create a story that's shareable and includes voices from across the community.

Instagram

Only available for iPhone users at this time, Instagram allows you to take photos, apply filters, and share all from your phone.

Let's talk.
