2013 Texas State Teachers Association School Bell Award Winners Announced “Texas Country Reporter” Honored for Outstanding Single Program

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

May 6, 2013...Dallas, TX...The Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) has announced the winners of the 2013 School Bell Awards for excellence in coverage of public education. Phillips Productions, producer of “Texas Country Reporter” with Bob Phillips and a subsidiary of Phillips MediaSource, was winner in the category: OUTSTANDING SINGLE PROGRAM.

After the awards Phillips said, “one of the first honors I ever received after starting my TV career was a School Bell Award. It really meant a lot to me then and still does today knowing this is an honor bestowed by some of the hardest working people anywhere - our teachers.”

TSTA is a movement to change the way public schools, their students and employees are treated. Their mission statement says it best: “The Texas State Teachers Association will unite, organize and empower public education advocates to shape public education in Texas thus providing a quality public school for every child.” Founded in 1880, this Texas affiliate of the National Education Association, 3.2 million members strong. Contact phone numbers are (877) ASK-TSTA or (512) 476-5355.
